WOMEN THROWN INTO SNOWPILE

Sleigh Capsizes and Horse Runs Three Miles

Mrs. Katherine Tang and Mrs. Henrietta Nekon Occupants

After a horse, driven by Mrs. Katherine Tang and Mrs. Henrietta Nekon, had bolted when the women were thrown from the sleigh at the corner of Moody and Ash streets, yesterday afternoon, the animal ran three miles to the stable in Auburndale. Although the sleigh was overturned, neither of the occupants was hurt.

The women were on their way home after doing some shopping in this city and had reached the corner of Ash street when they attempted to turn out to pass a two horse team. The runners caught in the car track and the sleigh capsized. Both women were thrown in the deep snow in the gutter. But for this fact they would have been badly hurt.

When the sleigh overturned, the horse, dragging the shafts, dashed up Moody street. Pedestrians attempted to seize the bridle, but the horse ran too fast for them. Twenty minutes later the animal came to the door of the barn in Auburndale.

ENTERTAINMENT TOMORROW

"The Life of Christ in Pictures to be Given in Endecott Hall

"The Life of Christ in Pictures" which was to be given by St. Charles' parish last Sunday, will be presented in Endecott hall tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The heavy storm of last Sunday was responsible for the postponement. The life of Christ from the Nativity to the Crucifiction is graphically portrayed on the screen and the films are said to be very realistic.

In addition to the pictures several well-known soloists will sing appropriate selections and the entertainment promises to be one of the best of the season. In the afternoon the concert will be given for the young folks and in the evening for grown-ups.

The proceeds will go to the fund of the fair which is to be held in Locke hall Jan. 24.

FINAL PAPERS PASSED TODAY

Payment Made for High School Athletic Field

About $10,000 Required to Develop the Field

Papers were passed this morning and the money paid for the property on Bacon street that has been acquired by the High School Athletic Association, and is to be developed as an athletic field.

The legal papers were drawn by Clarence F. French and Arthur N. Burke, who represented the association, and the money was paid to Mrs. Margeretha Hobbs and Miss Marie Stearns of Spencer, who owned the property which is now deeded to the association.

The amount paid for the property is not stated, although nearly the entire proceeds of two football seasons, together with a considerable sum received in subscriptions, was expended in the purchase of the property.

To meet the expense of developing the field, a finance committee will start immediately to raise the necessary amount by public subscriptions, and an appeal in the form of a circular containing subscription blanks will be issued at an early date.

The estimated cost of grading, draining, fencing, laying out a running track, gridiron, diamond, baseball and tennis courts and other work is $10,000, and if half of the amount is quickly raised, which seems well within bounds of probability, the committee will proceed to place the contract for the grading, so as to gain advantage of better terms which ought to prevail at this season of the year, when many teams and men are idle.

The new athletic field will afford opportunity to extend athletic sports to a larger proportion o fthe students, for there will be equipment for games in which there is now little interest at the school, owing to the absence of facilities.

This field, comprising eight and three-fourths acres, is located on Bacon St., just north of the Mass. Central Railroad. A plot of two acres adjoining this on the east, together with a right of way on to Lexington St., has been most generously donated by Mr. Thomas P. Smith. To secure an outlet onto Dale St. it seems desirable to secure an additional plot of about one acre.

The field is held by three trustees, Dr. H. A. Wood, Bertram Brewer and Arthur N. Burke.

SCHOOL BOARD GRANTS REQUEST

Children of Roberts to Get Free Transportation

Petition of Mrs. Kennedy Turned Down; Last Meeting in 1909

Children who reside in the Roberts district are to be transported at the expense of the city to and from the South Grammar school. Action to this effect was taken last evening by the School Board when it met for the last time in 1909.

Besides taking favorable action on the petition, the board refused to grant the request of Mrs. Mary Kennedy of Harris street who asked that her child be allowed to attend the kindergartep of the Bright school, decided to take up the abolishment of common drinking cups in the schools, granted increases in salaries to two of the school janitors, appointed Miss Katherine Wooley janitor of the Pond End school, and listened to the annual reports of the sub-committees.

Mayor Walker was in the chair and Messrs. Emery, Temple, Thomas, French, Hartwell and Bent were present. Supt. Parkinson reported that in accordance with the wishes of the board at its last meeting he had conferred with the members of the Civil Service Commission relative to the appointment of Mrs. Wooley as janitor of the Pond End school. The Commission stated that there were only two names that might be certified to and gave permission to the School Board to appoint Mrs. Wooley provisionally.

In regard to the communication received from the members of the School Board of Pittsfield regarding the passage of a law requiring the licensing of newsboys, Supt. Parkinson said that he had ascertained that there was already a law in force which made it optional whether or not cities and towns should license their newsboys. Supt. Parkinson said he had conferred with the local police authorities and Grammar school principals and said that there appeared to be no need of licensing the newsboys. The Pittsfield School Board since the sending of the communication, has learned that a law such as it sought to have passed was already in force and the matter has been dropped.

Supt. Parkinson said that there were 100 more children in the schools of the city this year than there were last year. He said that the indications were that this increase would be permanent and might be even greater in the following years.

The annual report of Division Committee 1 was read by Dr. Emery. The report said that the attendance at the High School this year was the largest ever in the history of the school. The committee believed that the school gymnasium was entirely inadequate and that some provision should be made for a larger gymnastic class. The report said that a gymnasium building should be erected and should be one of the units of the system of the Auburndale schools as well as the High school. The committee believed that such a gymnasium, if erected, should be open to the public evening and during the school vacations.

The committee agreed with the High School Alumni Association that the High School Athletic Association should be so constituted that the responsibility should not fall so largely on the undergraduates of the school.

For Division Committee 2, Dr. Temple recommended the granting of the petition of the Roberts residents providing for the transportation of the children and that provision for the same be made in the annual budget of the School Board. It was so voted. The report of the committee stated that there had been two changes in the teaching force in this city owing to the higher salaries offered elsewhere. One teacher had left school to be married. The 9th grades in the Grammar school have the largest number of pupils ever graduated.

The report of Division Committee 3 on the petition of Mrs. Mary Kennedy is as follows:

In the complaint made by Mrs. Kennedy of Harris street that her child was forbidden entrance to the Hill kindergarten, the committee has been informed that Mrs. Kennedy agreed

Short Stories of People Being Talked About

GEN. ESTRADA.

ONE of the most prominent figures in the Nicaraguan affair is General Juan J. Estrada, and he has had a stormy and busy career. He is not yet forty years of age and has taken part in nearly ever war in which his country has engaged, going to the front in these affairs since he was old enough to bear arms. He was a colonel in the war of 1896 and two years later was appointed governor of the province of Cape Gracias a Dios. In the war of 1899 he was seriously wounded and visited New York for surgical treatment. Following the operation his recovery was rapid.

When he returned to his native country he was made chief of customs of Nicaragua. This position he held for two years, when he was appointed governor of Bluefields, a place he held until the war with Honduras. At the close of hostilities he was admitted to the cabinet as minister of war.

MARJORIE GOULD.

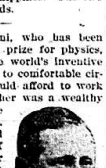
Marjorie Gould, who is so much in the public eye these days on account of her brilliant social success and reported engagement to a duke, will inherit an immense fortune, but if left penniless she could earn an excellent living, being a most accomplished girl. She is a fine musician, a splendid linguist, gifted as a vocalist far above the average, possesses great talent in the art of decorating, is an adept needlewoman, and in all society no girl has been brought up to have a more practical knowledge of housekeeping than she.

Miss Gould can order a dinner and superintend the machinery of a big house as well as the family chef and housekeeper. She knows how to do all these things, any of which, well done, would make for any dowerless girl a good living, an excellent salary and independence. And it is all because Mrs. Gould, who as Edith Kingdon made her own way in the world, believes that women are happier when they are busy.

JUDGE LURTON.

Judge Horace H. Lurton, who has been so much in the public eye since his selection by President Taft for the supreme court, was born in Kentucky sixty-five years ago and graduated as a lawyer from Cumberland university in 1867 after a brief academic career in Douglas university, later the University of Chicago, which was cut short by his service through the civil war. His first public office was that of chancellor of the Sixth district of Tennessee, in which he served three years. He was never active in politics, though a lifelong Democrat.

In 1886 he was appointed a justice of the supreme court of Tennessee, which he held the office until 1893. For a time he was chief justice of that bench. President Cleveland made him a judge of the Sixth judicial circuit of the United States in that year, though President Harrison had named Benjamin Hanchett of Michigan during the last days of his administration. Time was lacking, however, for senate action on the Hanchett nomination. Judge Lurton has served in this post ever since. He was a colleague of President Taft in that circuit before the latter became governor of the Philippines. The two men are close friends.



GUGLIELMO MARCONI.

Guglielmo Marconi, who has been awarded the Nobel prize for physics, unlike many of the world's inventive geniuses, was born to comfortable circumstances and could afford to work and wait. His father was a wealthy Italian, with a large estate at Griffone, near Bologna, and the question of funds was never really a question at all; otherwise, indeed, wireless telegraphy might still be a thing of the future.

"For had I been poor," Marconi once confessed, "I don't believe I should have invented, or, if I invented, I'm not at all sure I should have stuck to it. In any case I should never have starved for wireless telegraphy. I have too good a digestion."

In outward appearance Marconi might be a broker or an average clubman. He is of slight build and medium height, and there is nothing whatever in his complexion to suggest the foreigner. Indoors, however, with his hat off one notices at once the peculiar domelike shape of his head; high above the ears and eyebrows, so suggestive of the inventor, and one realizes, too, that there is a world of force behind his deep blue eyes.

COPYRIGHT VIOLATED

Publishers of Monthly Magazine Want Explanation From the Senate

Washington, Jan. 1.—Senator Lodge has raised an interesting question by causing to be reprinted by the senate, for circulation as a senate document a recent discussion of the Payne tariff act by Representative McCall, published originally in the Atlantic Monthly. The publishers have written the secretary of the senate to know on what authority this copyrighted article was reprinted.

The facts appear to be that the senate always has been in the habit of ordering such reprints without inquiring into the question of copyright. In this case Lodge offered the order to print, but a vote of the senate was necessary to secure action, hence the technical responsibility for the republication is supposed to fall upon the senate body rather than upon Lodge.

The senate always has proceeded on the theory that a republication is a compliment and benefit to writer and publisher, and no complaints for infringement appear to be on record.

COULDN'T STAND JOKING

Newly Married Man's Mental Outfit Damaged as a Result

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 1.—Herbert W. Mero, aged 24, was committed to the state hospital by Drs. Lincoln and Burley. Christmas day Mero was married and was made the butt for considerable joshing in the Sherman Envelope shop, where he labored daily since returning from the honeymoon.

Mero finally threw the place in an uproar as one of the girls cracked a joke at his expense on the marriage matter. Mero is said to have been very touchy on the marriage question and the constant joking by fellow employes in the shop and on the street weighed heavily on his mind.

SMALLPOX SCOURGE INVADES MILL TOWN

Board of Health Puts Ban on Public Gatherings

Winchendon, Mass., Jan. 1.—With seven cases of certified smallpox, with other cases under suspicion, with seventy-five people in quarantine among the afflicted and with 1000 of the mill workers just vaccinated or about to be vaccinated, this cotton mill town of 7000 population is passing its New Year in a "closed" condition that passes all precedent in its history.

The board of health has ordered that the public schools, closed for the holidays, shall not reopen till further notice. All church services are forbidden. The Winchendon theatre and two moving picture houses have been closed. Four dances have been called off. In every way public gatherings are discouraged.

WON'T BUY PEARY SHIP

Treasury Department Turns Down Proposition of the Arctic Club

Washington, Jan. 1.—Peary's Roosevelt, the steamship in which the explorer traveled to Cape Columbia on his successful dash to the North Pole, has been offered for sale to the government. The offer was made in a letter to the treasury department from a member of the Peary Arctic club, who has been authorized to act for the explorer in the matter. The letter suggested that the vessel might make a useful addition to the Behring sea fleet which is used for patrol purposes.

The department has replied that it appears inadvisable to buy the ship. The Roosevelt is still at New York, and if this refusal by the government proves final the vessel may be lost to preservation.

WITH A MUCH MARRIED MAN

Sixteen-Year-Old Heiress Disappears From Philadelphia

FORFEITS $10,000,000 LEGACY

Girl of Unusual Beauty Is Daughter of New York Stock Broker and Had Just Been Adopted by Grandfather, Who Declares He Will Cut Her Off For Her Escapade—Both Fled In Disguise, It Is Said, to Gotham

Philadelphia, Jan. 1.—Knowing that she would forfeit a legacy of $10,000,000 thereby, Miss Roberta B. De Janon, the 16-year-old granddaughter of Robert Buist, is alleged to have eloped with a waiter of the Bellevue-Stratford hotel. The man, Ferdinand Cohen, is married and is three times her age.

By letters and scraps of paper left behind by Cohen, and found by his wife in their home, the couple were traced to New York and the police of that city expect to take them into custody there.

When they left Philadelphia the man is said to have worn a false mustache and the girl a blonde wig.

Buist, a wealthy merchant, had just drawn up papers adopting his granddaughter as his daughter and making her heiress of his estate, which approximates $10,000,000.

The grandfather is almost frantic over the girl's escapade and declares he will at once cut her off and let her father take care of her.

Miss De Janon, a girl of unusual beauty, is the daughter of Ferdinand De Janon, a New York stock broker. She is of medium height and slender build, weighing less than 100 pounds, and is a pronounced brunette, with remarkable eyes. In fact, Mrs. Cohen said her husband told her that Miss De Janon's eyes fascinated him to an extent that shattered his will power.

Cohen is 45 years old, short, slight and partly bald. He was born in Vienna. The police say his wife told them that he had two other wives besides her.

All Hope of Saving Morse From Prison Is Abandoned

New York, Jan. 1.—Charles W. Morse, sentenced to serve fifteen years in the federal prison at Atlanta, for violation of the banking laws, will probably start for prison this evening, all hope of saving him from the long term of imprisonment having been abandoned when his counsel, Martin W. Littleton, failed to appear before the United States circuit court of appeals to argue for the issuing of a writ of error, which would have acted temporarily as a stay of execution of sentence.

Littleton was scheduled to appear before that court at 2 p. m. yesterday. United States District Attorney Wise was ready to argue against the issuing of the writ. When Littleton failed to put in an appearance at the scheduled hour announcement was made by Wise that all hope of saving Morse had been abandoned.

JEWELRY SHOP FIRE

Two Men Perhaps Fatally Hurt [illegible]

Providence, Jan. 1.—Two score of jewelry workers and shop clerks were thrown into a panic, two men over their presence of mind and leaped from a third story window, and many thrilling and heroic rescues were made by firemen, when a fire swept through the Dyer block. Two men were probably fatally hurt.

The sidewalk was literally strewn with diamonds, valuable jewelry and cut glass, and a police guard was thrown about the building to prevent looting, which started at the height of the excitement.

HEAD IN WASTE BUCKET

Evidence of Murder Found In an Atlanta Office Building

Atlanta, Jan. 1.—The head of a white man, evidently freshly cut from the body, was found in a waste bucket in the Prudential building, a large office structure. There is no clue to the man's identity.

The head was neatly severed, the flesh clean cut and the bones sawed. A deep wound was found in the back of the head as if a portion of the skull had been blown away with a gun. The victim was about 28 years of age.

Mason's Case Postponed

Boston, Jan. 1.—Frank H. Mason, formerly clerk of the United States district court, who was indicted for embezzlement some time ago, was arraigned before Judge Aldrich in the United States circuit court. As demurrers had been filed, District Attorney French asked that the hearing be postponed, which was done.

Passing of Gretna Green

Providence, Jan. 1.—Today marks the passing of Rhode Island as a "Gretna Green." The act of the last general assembly, making necessary a delay of five days between the time of application and of granting marriage licenses, became effective at midnight.

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC

Band of Men Carry It on In the Heart of New York City

New York, Jan. 1.—The charges made and vigorously denied during the recent municipal campaign of a wholesale white slavery traffic in this city were in some part substantiated by Joseph C. Gravour, a probation officer, in the court of special sessions.

Gravour declared on the witness stand that an investigation he made showed that a centralized group of men took possession of 200 flats, between the middle of the city and Harlem, for immoral purposes.

Many Polish servants, he said, were enticed, and, if the inducement to live the life suggested was not sufficient, a bogus marriage was performed.

Gravour was instrumental in preparing the evidence in the case of Samuel Rogoff, who was sentenced yesterday to eleven months in prison and a fine of $500, the maximum penalty.

SAVED BY WIRELESS CALL

Schooner In Distress Towed Safely to Port by a Revenue Cutter

Provincetown, Mass., Jan. 1.—Disabled and variously damaged after giving seaway of more than 200 miles to the Christmas storm during a week's unsuccessful battle, schooner Abbie and Eva Hooper was towed here by the revenue cutter Gresham.

The Gresham picked the Hooper up off Orleans, where she had been sighted by the life savers flying signals of distress, and to which place the Gresham was dispatched by wireless from Boston.

Never, probably, except in the case of the Republic, has the wireless summoned assistance quicker in the seas from such a distance. The Gresham had taken the schooner in tow within two hours of notification in Boston.

IMPORTANT LAWS ARE USHERED IN

Include One Concerning Child and Women Workers

Boston, Jan. 1.—A number of laws enacted by the legislature go into effect today. The most important is the fifty-six hour law, which provides that no child under the age of 18 and no woman shall be employed in a manufacturing or mechanical establishment for more than fifty-six hours in any single week.

The new automobile law provides new and uniform speed regulations, new penalties and a sliding scale system for license fees proportionate to horsepower, and ranging from $5 to $25.

Employes injured in the discharge of their duties through a defect in machinery will be entitled to action for damages, if such defect is reported to the person whose duty it is to remedy the defect.

Mrs. Sage Gives Yale $650,000 to Purchase Hillhouse Estate

New Haven, Jan. 1.—Announcement is made at Yale of an offer by Mrs. Russell Sage to the university of a gift of $650,000 to be used for the purpose of meeting the entire cost of securing the thirty-acre park at the [illegible] property. The offer will be accepted.

Mrs. Sage makes the gift without condition or restriction, payment to be made, say, on or before Feb. 1 next.

It is believed the park will be used as a site for the college's athletic field, to contain a stadium for football and track events, as Yale field has been outgrown.

FARMAN CREATES A RECORD

Flies Forty-Three Miles Across Country In Sixty Minutes

Paris, Jan. 1.—Maurice Farman, in a biplane, flew across country from Chartres to Orleans, a distance of forty-three miles in one hour. He followed the high road, maintaining an average height of 150 feet.

This constitutes a new cross-country record, the most successful previous similar feat having been accomplished by Captain Cody, head of the balloon department of the British war office. Cody made a flight last September of about forty miles in sixty-three minutes.

Draper's New Secretary a Democrat

Boston, Jan. 1.—Governor Draper has given the position of governor's secretary to William A. Murphy, state house reporter for the Boston Globe for the last sixteen years. Frank Dean, the present secretary, retires to resume law practice. Murphy is a Democrat.

Tennessee In "Dry" List

Nashville, Jan. 1.—Distillers and brewers closed down their plants at midnight last night. At that time the new Tennessee law forbidding the manufacture of intoxicating beverages in this state became effective.

Boston, Jan. 1.—Boston's Chinatown is being closely watched by the police in anticipation of a possible outbreak of hostilities following the Tong feuds in New York.

BANK IS SAVED FROM BANDITS

Well Laid Plans "Given Away" by One of Their Number

GOT STARTED ON THE JOB

Breaking in Rear Door When Marshals, Headed by Jack Abernathy, Make Their Appearance and Put Them to Rout—Two Are Killed, One Is In Jail, and Posse Is After Pair Who Escaped

Guthrie, Okla., Jan. 1.—Five men who intended to rob the bank and postoffice at Harrah, Okla., ran into a party headed by United States Marshal "Jack" Abernathy, Roosevelt's friend, who catches wolves alive with his bare hands.

As a result, two of the bandits are dead, one is in jail at Guthrie, wounded, and two others are pursued by armed citizens.

Frank Quigg, a former baseball player, was shot dead during the fight with the deputy marshals. He lived at Atchison, Kan., and was the son of a wealthy mother. Frank Carpenter, another robber, was mortally wounded during the fight and died in jail. J. C. Dilbeck, the third bandit, was only slightly hurt.

The robbery was well planned, but Carpenter told some one of the plot and postoffice inspectors learned of the affair. Abernathy was advised, and when the officers reached Harrah he was ready for them.

The officers waited until the robbers began breaking in the rear door of the bank and then charged. The robbers ran and the deputies fired, wounding Carpenter and Dilbeck at the first volley.

Carpenter, in an ante-mortem statement, said that "Red" Rogers and Pearl Wilson were the men who escaped. He and his associates, he said, recently robbed the Golden, Col., postoffice of $3000.

Dilbeck said that Rogers and Wilson were on top of the bank at the time of the raid, keeping watch, and fled from town after the fight.

Quigg's brother George was a member of Roosevelt's Rough Riders and died in the National Soldiers' Home at Leavenworth, Kan., a year ago.

OUR GARDEN OF EDEN

Lloyd-George Says It Is the Abiding Place of the "Serpent of Hunger"

London, Jan. 1.—In refuting the contention of the Conservatives that persistence in the policy of free trade created unemployment, David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, addressing a meeting in Queen's hall last night, argued that unemployment was more prevalent in protectionist countries than in England.

As an instance of the truth of this argument he cited the United States, which he described as "the protectionists' paradise, where customs officers line the shores like cherubim, with flaming swords, keeping every foreign-made article out of this garden of Eden; but, once inside, you find the serpent of hunger, want and unemployment hissing in every grade."

NO TRACE OF CREW

Makes an Unsuccessful Search for Davis Palmer Wreck

Boston, Jan. 1.—An organized effort was made Yesterday to recover the bodies of the crew of the five-masted schooner Davis Palmer, that sunk in forty feet of water in Broad sound.

Three times John Olsen, a veteran diver, went down to the wreck, each time cutting his way among the tangled mass of rigging, but was unable to tell whether or not the crew sank with the vessel. His efforts to determine if the yawl boat swung at its davits was balked by the mass of sails and ropes.

It certainly looks very peculiar to see a man like Past Department Commander James H. Wolff of the Grand Army of the Republic advocating Fitzgeraldism for the city of Boston.

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

We have little or no sympathy with the indiscriminately administered fad of city government by commission. It seems to be a coast-like gangrene [illegible] and softening of the brain. So with the new municipal government wrinkle—with some of its advocates it does away at one fell swoop with the indifference of the voter who does not vote, the corruption of the voter whose vote is purchasable and with the ignorance or venality of the administration of those charged with carrying on the affairs of the municipality. The scheme is lauded by its advocates as a positive cure-all, notwithstanding the fact that the original type of that form of government, evolved under extraordinary conditions, is not over five or six years old and is yet in a decidedly experimental stage. We are reminded of the days when we were learning our trade of a watchmaker. Our employer would examine a customer's watch to ascertain the cause of its stopping, which might have occurred from any one of a score of troubles. He would state the trouble to the owner and from that time until some new difficulty developed with some other watch, every timepiece we apprentices examined in the absence of our employer was afflicted with that same trouble and needed exactly the same treatment to remedy its physical ailments.

The "boss" has recently decided that a specific case required a commission government to remedy it and now the apprentices decide that government by commission is the one thing needed even if the body politic still is sound and without an ailment. And they will continue to look wise and say "government by commission" until the "boss" springs some new fad upon them. Those who have observed the working out of this plan of municipal government must have noticed two things—first, that it was a most extraordinary combination of affairs, both morally and physically, that evolved the original scheme and applied it to devastated, corruption-ridden Galveston; and second, that scarcely any two of the schemes that assume to have patterned after the Galveston progenitor are identical in form with the original or with each other.

Why should there be any anxiety to foist such an unmatured scheme on Waltham? Has anyone any fault to find with the general administration of our city government? Is it not carried on with a reasonable economy, without any visible graft and with general satisfaction? On what grounds can such a change be advocated save as a fad, that Waltham may leave a tried and approved form and venture into the uncharted sea of municipal experimentation?

And what assurance can be given that the conditions that prompted Galveston and Dubuque and the three or four other cities yet experimenting to try this general plan may not be repeated in time in the new scheme? The only sure course in municipal government is to assure the active participation of the entire electorate in elections. When that condition is attained there is little danger of any form of administration being seriously askew; so long as it is not attained and a large proportion of the voters neglect the performance of their obvious duty as citizens the government will not be properly administered whether it be by a Mayor, a commission or by any device [illegible] of the voters "is the price of" decent government.

[illegible] the voters properly tackled the town form of government and at the same time allocated municipal government by commission, an anomaly which is only explainable by an apparently superficial acquaintance with what the two plans involve.

We are by no means closed to conviction but we have yet to see any that warrant so radical a change.

Flying Is the Greatest Sport In the World.

By WILBUR WRIGHT, Aeronaut.

FLYING IS THE GREATEST SPORT IN THE WORLD. IT IS LIKE SLEDDING, LIKE MOTORING, LIKE SAILING, BUT WITH INCREASED EXHILARATION AND FREEDOM.

An aeroplane flight, contrary to the general impression, is FAR STEADIER THAN THE FAMILIAR MEANS OF LOCOMOTION. There is absolute freedom from the bouncing of the automobile, the jar of a railroad train or the rolling and pitching sensations of the sea. No matter how many springs or cushions may be added to an autoinobile, for instance, there will always be some motion.

On the other hand, the seat of AN AEROPLANE IS ALWAYS STEADY. The aeroplane does not jolt over the invisible wind currents, the ruts of the sky. It cuts its way smoothly. Even supposing the plane to be gliding at an angle of 45 degrees, the seat remains fixed. There is, of course, no absolute parallel in surface travel. And, since there is no roll or pitch to the aeroplane, there is [illegible] SICKNESS COMPARABLE TO THE FAMILIAR [illegible] SEA.

to have her child present Oct. 4. As the child was not present on that date, the committee finds the Superintendent justified in the action taken by him. The committee was composed of George D. Thomas and H. S. Hartwell.

In the report of the division committee it was stated that the attendance at the kindergarten is the largest since this grade was established. The committee recommended that an additional kindergarten should be started at the Bemis school. The children in this district now attend the Lowell and Robbins kindergartens. The first grades in the primary school are overcrowded. The committee recommended that next year there should be two first grades at the Newbridge school instead of one. The report said that the new ventilating system of the Bright school had been installed but that the noise of the motor and fan was so loud in the schoolroom that some change would have to be made.

Mr. French, for the committee on accounts and estimates, approved payment of bills amounting to $3630.02. It was so voted.

For the committee on salaries Mr. Hartwell said that the request of Truant Officer Richardson for an increase of salary would be reported on at the next meeting of the board.

For the committee on manual training and industrial school, Dr. Temple recommended that an appropriation be made for the industrial school. The report of the committee stated that last fall, when the school was to be started, the enrollment was not large enough, only 22 signifying their intention of attending the sessions of the school. The Commonwealth, according to the report of the committee, had refused its promise to support the school and the attendance was not large enough to warrant the city assuming the entire burden of carrying on the school.

The report said that the majority of those who attended the school were already competent machinists and that the present equipment of the school could be used to good advantage. The committee recommended that an appropriation be made for increasing the equipment of the manual training school.

The committee [illegible] election of Mrs. Wooley as janitor of the rural school at a salary of $100. The report recommended that the request of John Carlsson, janitor of the Bright school and Samuel Abrahamson, janitor of the Banks and Plympton schools for increases in salary be granted. It was so voted and the former will receive $750 instead of $625 while the latter will get $675 instead of $625.

The matter of the abolishment of the common drinking cups was brought up by Mr. Thomas. Mr. Parkinson said that he had communicated with the district inspector of the State board of health and he felt that some thing ought to be done. Mr. Parkinson said that it would be difficult to find a satisfactory substitute for the drinking cups and that many devices, which at first might be considered suitable, later turned out to be useless. Mr. Parkinson said that the use of straws, which had been carried on by one teacher in the schools in this city had proved to be satisfactory.

After considerable discussion, it was voted that Superintendent Parkinson confer with members of the board of health, Superintendent Brown of the water department and Superintendent Patch of public buildings and grounds department, to arrange a conference to take up the matter.

Dr. Emery said that there were many girls in the High school who indulged in athletics, who should not take part in strenuous sports. Miss Barnes, the gymnastic instructor, has found several instances in which girls had overstrained in the gymnasium. Dr. Emery said that girls who wished to take part in basketball games and rough sports should present physicians' certificates. It was voted that the matter be taken up by the committee on medical inspection.

Permission was given the board of aldermen to hold the inaugural exercises in the assembly hall of the High school Monday afternoon.

The board adjourned after Mayor Walker had thanked the members for their services of the past year. The next meeting is to be held Tuesday evening.

NEW YEAR THOUGHTS

Oh weep not for the buried years,
Nor wish the sands of yesterday
Could come to dry the falling tears,
And chase the darksome clouds away.
Behold! Another day is here—
Another year, the page is new
For you to write the words of cheer
For you to dare, for you to do.

The past is gone, the present waits,
With hopeful,uiten, to guide you on thro' all the paths of all the fates,
To every summit reached by man.
Not now the season when the doubt,
And dark despair, with shadows dreary,
Should chase the sunbeam, playing about
The threshold of a glad New Year.

LEOPOLD II.

Leopold of Belgium is laid at rest, and to judge by popular opinion and newspaper comment all the immorality, cruelty, barbarism, cupidity and selfishness hitherto existing, in the world, have been buried with him.

The cartoonists have been busy for weeks depicting the dead monarch in all attitudes of horror and loathsomeness; while our small calibre poets have exhausted their little stock-in-trade of vituperation on his bier.

Meanwhile the Belgian people who knew their king, and despite his many and grave faults loved him, were mourning his death. Leopold seemed in his late years to hav lost all sense of domestic and moral responsibility, but it is chiefly because of cruelties committed in his name, among the natives of his African possessions, that his reign in bto years became a syndhym for tyranny throughout the world.

But it may be questioned whether outrages practised in the Congo were worse than those perpetrated in English, German, Italian or American colonies. Many nations envied Leopold the rich spoils of the Congo, and it is certain that a goodly mixture of selfishness and crocklidle tears, was a part of the honor excited by his reign.

For loss of life through misgovernment, and for widespread pauperism of the nations the control of India by England is no better than Leopold's antics in the Congo; and as far as we know Italian and German depredations have not in the past fared much better.

But when it is a question of humorality, though this is to be condemned in a savage as well as in any laborer, it is amusing to note the hypocrisy of reigning monarchs whose private lives are by no means examples to be followed by the rest of mankind.

Leopold was the most democratic monarch in Europe. During his reign, he made the Belgium nation prosperous and happy. Belgium is the most densely populated county in Europe, and yet we do not see very many of these people flocking to our shores to escape tyranny at home.

If we cannot forget the faults of Leopold, let us at least speak only justhee, and while admitting his many great acts of tyranny and private follies, let us not be led away by the motives of selfishness and some gripes which actuates governments that fain would lay their soiled hands on the rich spoils of the Congo.

WE'LL REMEMBER YOU

(Dedicated to a certain Dr. Cook)

When some aspiring Wilbur Wright
Shall tell us day by day,
Of trips in monoplanes by night
To strange lands far away;
And all the wondrous sights he saw,
And all the facts new,
Well, we shall think the story "raw"
For we'll remember you.

* * * *

When some self-advertising gent
Shall lecture on the stars,
[illegible]
And how an answer was sent back
And asked "How do you do?"
That gent shall very quickly see
That we remember you.

Dear Doc
That we remember you.

* * * *

When some "professor" deep and wise
With leather lungs shall roar,
How we can live mid earthly joys,
Two hundred years and more,
By rubbing nightly on our nose,
His Patent Liquid Glare,
At fifty cents; you can suppose
That we'll remember you.

Dear Doc
That we'll remember you.

WHO IS SANE?

Indications point to the fact that our criminal courts with their opposing insanity "experts" are not to enjoy a monopoly of the palliating "brainstorm." It now appears, according to his brother, that Dr. Cook was a raving maniac when he returned from the far north after declaring that "little brass tube" in a crevice in the ice.

Willy Watson, too, the poet with the waggling tongue, is mercifully recommended for a quiet padded cell by his considerate brother. The fashion has now gone abroad and it is only a question of days when his political opponents shall lose all enmity for Mayor Hibbard, and mercifully attribute his mayoralty aspirations to mental derangement.

Joe Cannon, it is believed, is under careful observation, and it would not surprise anyone to hear that because he tilts his black cigar to such an acute angle he shall in future, in consideration of his mental condition, be forgiven for his little idiosyncrasies in killing bills towards which he feels an unnatural enmity.

Those Republican "insurgents" who, despite all common sense, and common decency, are not satisfied with that glorious piece of legislation known as the Payne-Aldrich Tariff bill, are, it must be mercifully admitted, in a fair way to keep company with Dr. Cook and Mr. Watson.

There are men here in Waltham who think that the Boston & Maine railroad officials are laying awake nights planning to give us the graded crossings for which we long have yearned. There are so many of such men around that we were unable at this writing to interview all of their brothers but the few we did question merely shook their heads and looked sympathetic.

A few city officials have been found who have not yet made application for a raise in salary, and considering the ease with which such are granted, their condition is puzzling. It should teach us all a lesson to be on our best behavior in presence of relatives and more especially before our brothers.

The anti-kissing league of Chicago has adopted a badge to be worn round the necks of the kissable fair ones of the Park city, on which is inscribed the device "Don't kiss me." Who would have thought that Chicago ladies, of all others, would take such precautions.

* * * *

Peary, in his journey poleward, says he sometimes traveled as much as 17 miles a day. We would like to see him attempt to make this speed on Main street some days ago, after it had been officially "cleared."

The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Merrill of Vermont, and was followed by a reception to friends and relatives.

The parlors were prettily decorated for the occasion and the floral arrangement in the parlor alcove, where the ceremony was performed, was especially beautiful. Evergreen was used as a background, while the arch was surrounded with a large assortment of white calla lilies, roses and tulips.

The ceremony of the Episcopal church was performed by Dr. Merrill, who is an uncle to the bride.

The bride was given away by her father, and the double ring ceremony was carried out.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Marjorie Elmes acting as maid of honor, and Paul Draper of Canton was best man.

The bride was attired in a handsome gown of chiffon over white silk, and the costume of the maid of honor was of the same material in blue.

After the ceremony a reception was tendered to friends and relatives, the couple being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Bradford W. Drake of this city and Mr. and Mrs. A. Morton Elmes.

COL. BENTON GETS OVATION

Grand Master Visits a Council of Royal and Select Masters

Col. Everett C. Benton of Belmont, grand master of the grand council, Royal and Select Masters, might well be gratified at the ovation accorded him by Boston council Thursday evening when he called upon that body officially. For five minutes the applause rang out without a sign of diminishing until he turned and bowed his acknowledgement, but trans mit was sufficient to stop another wave of enthusiasm, to continue nearly as long.

While he is the head of the Cryptic rite in the state, he became such through Boston council, so that it was doing honor to one of the family.

The suite, numbering as it did more than four-score and ten, goes far beyond the high mark that has been attained in this respect.

Among the visitors on the suite of Col. Benton were Luchs A. Derby, G. C. of Concord; J. Franklin Rider, Thrice Illustrious Master, Fred W. Derbyshire, Past Thrice Illustrious Master and Hollis E. Denten, Recorder of Adoniran Council: Amasa Harrington, Recorder of Orient Council.

SICILY AND ITS BEAUTIES

Described by Minna E. Tenney to Woman's Club

Teachers Were Guests at Meeting Yesterday

The fifth regular meeting of the Waltham Womans club was held yesterday. In the absence of Mrs. Fulton, Mrs. Annie L. Hurd, the first vice president, presided.

Miss Esther Taylor, accompanied by Mrs. Vera Ball, sang "The Dying Flower" responding with an encore.

Mrs. Harriet L. Smith, chairman of the Literature and History committee, presented Minna Eliot Tenney, whose subject "Picturesque Sicily," carried her audience from snow bound New England to "The Garden of the Mediteraneun."

"Sicily", said the speaker, "has had a sad and checkered history, conquered and oppressed by invading armies. Its people carry in their sad faces and bearing the imprint of that history. As one approaches Messina, Etna, with its snow clad peak, stands preeminent. Scenes were thrown upon the screen, of the harbor and mile of palaces, stretching along the water front at Messina and in contrast the same locality after the earthquake of last year. Messina was once a Greek city but in 1783, after an earthquake, a new Messina was built upon the ruins of the old city.

"As one rides along the railway there is on the one hand the water of the blue Mediterranean, on the other the cultivated terraces and high mountain parks. The peasants use as road days the dry beds of streams, which after a shower become raging mountain torrents. Many of the hills are crowned by villages and citadels built in olden times as a protection, both from the ravages of outlaws and of pestilence of the plains. Syracus, once the important city of Sicily and in fact of the whole Greek world, was built on an island joined to Sicily by strong iron bridges. Under the Romans it slowly but surely declined and now occupies its original position.

"It has a cathedral built around an ancient temple of Minerva. At the fountain of Arethusa it is said Lord Nelson watered his ships before the battle of the Nile, and laughingly said it would bring him victory. Under the church of San Giovanni is an underground church where St. Paul is supposed to have preached during his three adys' stay. The ancient quarries, where Athenian slaves were forced to toil, 20 centuries ago, are now objects of exquisite beauty, the ivy forming a drapery over the time stained stones.

"The Greek theatre, literally dug out of the white lime stone, is of great interest. Here, 400 B. C., the inhabitants watched the fight between their ships and those of the Greeks.

"The Sicilian carts are very curious affairs. The little pony's harness is composed principally of bells and feathered plumes which are supposed to keep away the evil spirits. The carts, themselves, are painted in panels, each representing some Biblical or historical scene. These carts are handed down from generation to generation and are greatly prized by their owners.

"The ruins of Segesta, the magnificent temple of Juno, also that of Zeus, Jupiter, one miles to the south of Girgenti is the port from which is shipped great cargoes of sulphur and as one rides through this part of Sicily, the landscape is spoiled by these great sulphur mines. The city of Palermo, with its beautiful bay, rivaling that of Naples, is trying to keep pace with Paris. Here are scenes of beauty and again of great destitution. The Villa Julia at the end of the drive along the water front is one of the most beautiful of gardens. In Palermo is a large theatre dedicated to Victor Emmanuel II. The market places and wine shops of Sicily present to the visitor curious scenes.

"The town of Monreale has a cathedral whose wonderful interior contains 70,000 square feet of mosaic, and its bronze doors contain 200 Biblical scenes. Religious fervor was the first impetus of the people towards art, and in this way they strove to present Bible scenes to the masses. The beauties of flower and fruit, the mountains and blue waters of Sicily must be seen to be appreciated."

In closing there were thrown upon the screen the portraits of the royal family, whose deeds, during the recent earthquake, showed so plainly that "one touch of nature makes the whole world kin."

The next meeting of the club will be under the auspices o fthe class in Bible Literature, when Rev. Elbert W. Whitney will speak on "Saint James."

NEW SYSTEM OF BIG CANALS

Found to Be in Process of Construction on Mars

GREAT DISCOVERY BY LOWELL

Astronomer Tells Special Gathering of Scientists That Flagstaff Records Give Clear Proof That Planet Is Inhabited—Admits Experiencing Thrill In Learning That Phenomenon Was Actually Previously Non-Existent

Boston, Jan. 1.—Life on Mars is the logical and almost inevitable deduction from the latest observations at Flagstaff Hill as related by Dr. Percival Lowell, the noted astronomer. "Animate will" is the term Lowell applies to the force which is bringing about a most remarkable phenomenon on the planet.

In the popular way of reporting what Lowell has discovered, in terms applicable to seemingly similar undertakings on earth, the inhabitants of Mars are engaged at this moment in building a new system of canals.

Dr. Lowell's first public statement concerning the observation was made at a special session of section A (mathematics and astronomy), American Association for the Advancement of Science, and he spoke in terms within the range of understanding of a lay public which had been invited.

In his introduction Dr. Lowell commented upon the different definitions of the word new, noting that in one sense it referred to what had never before been seen by human eye and then again it is new because it never existed before.

"New canals on Mars, in the first sense," said the speaker, "though always interesting, and at times highly important, are no novelty at this observatory, inasmuch as at least 400 have been discovered here in the past fifteen years. When Schiaparelli left his great work he had mapped 117 canals; with those detected at Flagstaff in addition, the number has risen to between five and six hundred.

"To observe, however, a canal new in the sense that it had never existed anteriorly, and to prove the fact is an astronomic detection of a different order and one the significance of which speaks for itself. This is what has happened at the last apposition at Flagstaff."

On Sept. 30, 1909, when the region of the Syrtis Major came into view again after its periodic hiding of six weeks, two striking canals were evident to the east of the Syrtis in places where no canals had ever previously been seen. Not only was their appearance unprecedented, but the canals themselves were the most conspicuous ones on that part of the disc.

The new canals ran from the bottom of the Syrtis Major and from a point on its eastern side south, converging to an oasis, itself new, on the Cocytus about two-thirds of the distance to where that canal meets the Amenthes. The Amenthes itself was not visible except possibly as a suspicion. The new canals were recorded in independent drawings by Assistant Slipher and the director, and when afterwards were photographed as the most conspicuous canals in the images.

That the canals were indeed new was conclusively established by examination of the records of previous [illegible] of the canal, history go back to 1894. Nor had any observer previous to 1894 recorded them. Schiaparelli had never seen them nor had his predecessors or successors. This determined definitely that no human eye had ever looked upon them before.

"But stirring as it is to know that one is the first to see a new topographical feature on another planet," said Lowell in his description of the discovery, "akin to the thrill of finding land in our own Antarctic regions, there is a scientific interest greater still in learning that the phenomenon was got only previously undiscovered, but actually previously non-existent. For in that case one has seen something come into being, with all that such origination implies."

The speaker then took up the question of whether the canals might not have been there all the time, but unseen. This, he said, may be answered definitely in the negative.

No New Peers Named

London, Jan. 1.—Had the usual practice been followed Premier Asquith scarcely could have escaped the elevation to the peerage of some of his staunch supporters on New Year's day. In view of the present denunciatory attitude of the Radicals toward the upper house it was considered apparently to be inconsistent to add to its numbers.

FOUR DEAD IN WRECK

Spencer Trask, Well Known as Banker, One of the Victims

New York, Jan. 1.—Spencer Trask, the head of a firm of bankers, was crushed to death in his private compartment while returning to New York from Yeddo, his country place at Saratoga. Three others met death in the wreck.

Trask's compartment was at the rear of the last car, a sleeper. The train halted near Croton and was supposedly protected from the rear by the block signal system, but it had hardly come to a stop when a heavy freight struck it from behind with great force.

Spencer Trask was for years one of the most notable figures in Wall street and, as a director of many railroads and financial institutions, wielded a large influence. He was born in Brooklyn in 1844.

Trask leaves a widow, well known as an author of fiction and of two plays. Last September Trask lost an eye as the result of an auto accident at Cambridge, Mass. He is thought to have left a fortune of nearly $50,000,000.

Instructive Pattern Explained in Detail by an Expert

MISSES' MILITARY CAPE 6531. To be Made With Revers or Closed in Double Breasted Style, With Openings at the Seams or in the Fronts.

Capes made in military style are being much worn this season and are exceedingly smart. They suit young girls peculiarly well and they are well liked both for daytime and evening wear. This one is made of military blue broadcloth and is faced with dark red silk, while the collar is of velvet finished with braid, but simper capes are made of serge lined with bright red flannel, the flannel extending to half the depth of the revers, and more elaborate ones can be made of light colored broadcloth with lining of silk or satin. The cape is excellent for stormy weather use too, and when designed for such purpose can be made with the double breasted closing and openings in the fronts that are shown in the small view.

6531 Misses' Military Cape, 14 and 16 years.

The cape consists of fronts and back. There are seams over the shoulders and the openings for the arms can be made in these seams or cut in the fronts and finished with laps. When revers are desired the fronts are turned back to form them. The high collar is seamed to the neck. The closing of the single breasted cape is made invisibly, that of the double breasted cape with buttons and buttonholes.

The quantity of material required for the 14 year size is 3 yards 44 inches wide, with 1¾ yards of silk for the facing, ¾ yard of velvet for collar.

The pattern 6531 is cut in sizes of 14 and 16 years of age, and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps. In ordering patterns please write name and address plainly, and be sure to state number and size desired. If in a hurry for pattern, and you live in a large city, you can have it sent by mail in a sealed envelope, which insures more prompt delivery.

The FREE PRESS-TRIBUNE will mail a perfect sample pattern for TEN CENTS, to cover all costs of postage, handling, etc. Direct your orders to Pattern Department, FREE PRESS-TRIBUNE office, Waltham, Mass., and enclose the entire clipping, so that there may be no error. Write plainly with ink. It generally takes four days by the Fashion Department of this paper for return.

FADS AND FASHIONS

Prevailing Styles in Many Articles Worn by Women

Many of the muffs measure fully three-quarters of a yard in length, and whether they are of the saddle bag or ordinary pillow order they are kept absolutely flat and incredibly light.

There is a fancy this season for matching the walking skirt suit with a petticoat of dotted foulard he ground color of the foulard being exactly the shade of the material of which the skirt is made.

Chenille is used to form embroidered bands for gowns, for ornamenting the corsage for delicate evening frocks, for sleeve finish, and for the throat, and and one places that embroidery has been put on of late.

The Paris idea of a gown as straight and as stiff as a pipestem has failed to find favor on this side of the water, and for once American women are following their own ideas. The result being fuller and more graceful skirts.

With black costumes there are tinsel garnitures of embroided net that cover the front of the waist and then fall straight in panel or side effect down the front of the gown.

The latest necklaces brought from the far East resemble flexible snakes. They are of antique or green gold finished metal, and have eyes and tongue of amazing colors, sapphires and emeralds.

One of the most conspicuous features of afternoon gowns is their furnishings, and the little heads, paws and tails of the animals are being employed as well as the usual bands.

The "semi-bedclothe frock," about which Fashion was undecided, is now firmly established as the correct evening promise between gown and full evening dress. It goes with the picture hat.

Black satin gowns are small this season, but they are veiled with a dress of embroidered net over chiffon, covered with a glistening lustre of heavy embroidery and jet combined or silk with jet.

All black suits continue to contribute to the sombreness of the dark costumes of the winter. When bright colored hats are worn they are at most invariably toned down with a touch of gray or black.

Neck Ornaments and chains have seldom been more to the fore than at the present time, and they are by no means confined to evening wear.

A narrow frill of sheer lawn or null is a pretty finish to the neck with lace.

The pattern is cut in sizes from 32 to 42 inches bust measure. It requires 3¼ yards of 27, 3¼ yards of 36 or 2¾ yards of 44 inches wide, with 1¾ yards of silk for the facing, ¾ yard of velvet for collar.

The pattern 6531 is cut in sizes of 14 and 16 years of age, and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps. In ordering patterns please write name and address plainly, and be sure to state number and size desired. HOUSEHOLD NOTES

Little Items of Interest to Every Housekeeper

To make celery sightly and crisp, cut white tender stalks into two-inch lengths and score the pieces lengthwise about half an inch from each end until both ends are fringed. Drop them into a pan of ice water in which a slice of lemon is soaking and let stand for an hour before serving. Dry thoroughly before putting on the table.

Raisins will make a delightful beverage. Take one pound, seeded, two pounds loaf sugar, three lemons and two gallons of boiling water. Cut the thin yellow peel from the lemons, cover it with boiling water and when the water has cooled add the juice of the lemons and the raisins and sugar. After it has stood for several days strain through a jelly bag and bottle. It is then ready for use.

A receipt for sugar cookies is as follows: Four even teacupfuls of flour, one even teacupfuls of sugar, two even teaspoonfuls of soda, two even teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar, one heaping coffeecupful of butter, two teacupfuls of sugar and milk enough to make a paste. Sift the flour, soda, cream of tartar and butter and rub together. Put in the sugar, break in two eggs, add a little vanilla and the milk. Roll out, cut and bake.

To enrich the coloring it is advisable sometimes to brown the flour before making a spice or fruit cake.

A spoonful of oxgall to a gallon of water will set the colors of almost any goods soaked in it previous to washing.

A chocolate sauce, such as is served with vanilla ice cream, poured over lady fingers, makes a simple and tasty dessert.

To make perfect stew of tough beef cut it into small pieces, weighing about half an ounce, and cook for eight hou.

Meat gains in improved by larding that is, having a piece of bacon cut in rows of diagonal slits skewered over the breast.

Though it is extravagant, the substitution of cream for milk in making pumpkin pie will result in a most delightful dessert.

In making cranberry jelly or jam much less sugar will be required if the sugar be not added until after the fruit is well cooked.

For hot-weather-prepared quickly in an emergency, bake marshmallows for five minutes in a hot oven and serve with devil's food and whipped cream.

Having several pairs of shoes and never wearing the same pair more than one or two days at a time will rest the leather and make it last better.

In selecting spoons for kitchen use, it is a wise plan to get those with bobbles in the handle. They may be hung up and thus kept accessible.

A plain cloth dipped in hot water and then in a saucer of bran will clean white paint and not injure it. The bran acts like a soap on the paint.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS

No pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage ground of truth.—Bacon.

All the strength and all the attractions are measured by, and founded upon, their reverence for the passion and their guardianship of the purity of love.—Carlyle.

It is a question whether all our searching criticism has ever done so much to produce efficient work and to bring our neighbor to his best as words of genuine and hearty encouragement.—John Watson.

There was never a night without a day,
Nor an evening without a morning,
And the darkest hour, the poverb says,
Is the hour before the dawning.
—C. Mackey.

I have said one hundred times, and am willing to say again, that if anybody will take charge of the poverty and crime which result from drunkenness, the South Congregational church, of which I have the honor to be minister, will alone take charge of the poverty which needs relief in the city of Boston.—Edward Everett Hale.

—Boston Herald.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

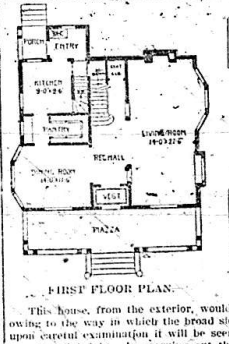
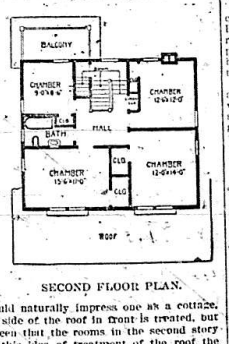
PERSPECTIVE VIEW.—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.



FIRST FLOOR PLAN.



SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

This house, from the exterior, would naturally impress one as a cottage, owing to the way in which the broad side of the roof in front is treated, but upon careful examination it will be seen that the rooms in the second story are all full height. In carrying out this idea of treatment of the roof the architect gets away from the stereotype style of a hip or the gable roof, and the design not only looks better, but is symmetrical and harmonious in outline.

The size of the house is thirty-two feet six inches wide and twenty-eight feet deep over the main part. There is a full basement. The first story is nine feet and the second eight feet in the clear. Birch floors are used throughout, with Washington fir or red oak finish in the first story and pine to paint in the second.

As a practical plan for a home this design can be recommended. A feature is the living room, which is twenty-seven feet long. Another feature is the arrangement of the stairs. There is an open staircase from the reception hall, also back stairs from the kitchen to the landing of the main stair. Underneath this one can go into the basement either from the kitchen or from the rear entry. The refrigerator is in the rear entry. Cost to build, exclusive of plumbing and heating, $3,225.

By special arrangement with me the editor of this paper will furnish one complete set of plans and specifications of design No. 840 for $25.

Smokeless

Until science discovered a way to construct the Automatic Smokeless Device, and make it completely dependable, all oil heaters had one common great fault—smoke.

With the advent of the Automatic Smokeless Device, and its practical application to the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

the smoke problem was successfully solved.

The Perfection Oil Heater is the only heater equipped with this which insures a steady, full-glowing heat, with the wick turned up as high as it will go, without a shred of smoke. Reverse the motion, turn the wick down—there's no odor.

The smokeless device automatically locks and prevents the upward movement of the wick beyond the proper exposure. That is the secret. This splendid result gives leadership to the Perfection.

You may now have all the heat you want—when you want it—and where you want it—without the annoyance of smoke or odor.

Brass font holds 4 quarts of oil, which permits a glowing heat for 9 hours.
Brass wick tube—damper top—cool handle. Cleaned in a minute.
The Perfection is beautifully finished in Nickel or Japan.

The inquirer told me that she read in a local paper this week that Miss Jeffory had attended the Hollis Street Theatre and in the same column that she was spending the winter at her home in Maine. I told the young lady that it did hit me. The Joke must be on some other fellow.

LADIES WATCH NEW YEAR IN

Embroidery Club Meets at Home of Mrs. Pike

The 16 members of the Embroidery Club ushered in the New Year with a [illegible] given by Mrs. Mattie Pike, at her home on [illegible] street.

Each member was masked and in costume. There were ladies of '1850, through Riders and witch. The hostess received in black evening dress. Surprises were many, much merriment being caused by confusion in identities.

The evening was passed in game and music. At 10 o'clock a collation was enjoyed. At each plate was a surprise "ton-bon" and a New Year greeting:

"Here's a cheery little rhyme,
Let us take "the stitch in time;"
May we blend the colors true
Till the glad New Year is through
Happiness for thee and thine
In the year that's after nine.
The old year was sung out with "Auld Lang Syne."

The club will elect its officers at the next meeting.

Spencer Musical Club Has a Merry Time

Vaudeville and Dance Give Pleasure to Armory Hall

The Spencer Musical Club will present the opera, "Miss Bob White," Feb 16 and 17 in Endecott hall, under the direction of Hiram Tuttle. The announcement was made last evening at a meeting in Armory hall.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer showed the club in a good financial condition.

After the adjournment of the business meeting there was dancing. Miss Frances Field played the piano. A three-act vaudeville show lasted nearly an hour.

The first sketch was presented by Aubrey Tabor and Arthur Murray entitled "A Swell Black Man." The act furnished considerable amusement and was creditably given by the players.

James Curran, in a rube costume, pleased the audience in two sketches entitled "Hey Rube" and "Mollie's Little Ram." Many of the members were subjects of original jokes.

The last act given by Harry Tabor and Robert Murray was called "The Irishman and the Coon." The characters were well played. At the close of the dialogue the players sang a song, with words to "hit" each member of the club.

The committee in charge of last evening's jollification was Harry Tabor, chairman; James Curran, Arthur Murray, Aubrey Tabor, Robert Murray and Harry Beardsley.

ANNUAL DANCE OF ALUMNI

Conducted Last Evening With a Large Attendance

Many Classes Were Represented In the Gathering

Maynard hall was the scene of one of the prettiest functions of the season last evening, the occasion being the annual dance of the High School Alumni Association.

The attendance was large and the affair proved a decided success, both socially and financially.

The decorations in the hall, while not elaborate, were neat and were arranged principally around the matron's corner and in the banquet room.

The affair opened with a reception, and the guests upon their arrival were received by the matrons, Mrs. Allen Greenwood, Mrs. Arthur P. Teele and Mrs. Harry F. Beal. Members of the committee assisted at the reception, presenting the guests.

After the reception dancing was enjoyed through the remaining hours of the night, and the party was brought to a close shortly after midnight.

Music for the dancing was furnished by Strauch's orchestra.

At 10.30 there was a brief intermission during which refreshments were served by Caterer Vanderwoerd.

The floor was in charge of Dr. Allen Greenwood, who was assisted by Howard Peterson and Earl Eichler.

The success of the party was due to the efforts of the following committees in charge of the arrangements:

Dance committee—Dr. Allen Greenwood, chairman; Miss Anbie Hallerman, Earl Eichler, Robert Rutter, Howard Peterson, Mrs. George J. Barker and Miss Marjorie Hartwell.

Invitations and printing—Shirley Eldridge, Mrs. Caroline Doe and Daniel Gibbs.

Refreshments—Miss Lina Williams, Howard Sanderson, Miss Grace Seabury, Ernest Doe and Theodore Whitcomb.

Refreshments—Frank L. Barnes, Jarvis Preble, Percival Stone and Miss Florence Trimmer.

Decorations—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bond, Miss E. E. Sanderson, Homer Sewall, Ransom Somers and Miss Dorothy Mosher.

Twenty-seven new members have joined the church within the past year and a considerable sum has been expended in making repairs on the church.

Following the reading of the reports there was an informal social in charge of the members of Mrs. Gibb's Bible class. Those present afterward went to Asbury Temple to take part in the Watch Night services held there.

Mrs. Bullock was attended by a physician.

COASTING IS GOOD

Many Enjoy the Sport on Plympton Hill

Coasting on Plympton hill is at its best. Every evening this week many have been enjoying the sport on double-runners.

The course is about a quarter of a mile in length and ends in a vacant field off Bacon street. The speed down hill is very fast, as part of the slide is over ice.

Very few accidents have happened thus far, but none has been of a serious nature. Last evening there were eight double-runners on the hill, each having a seating capacity of 10 people.
